

Whether you've been home educating this whole school year or you've suddenly found yourself the primary teacher of your children, you CAN homeschool! Even for long-time homeschoolers, this period of "crisis schooling" is unique, unsettling and annoying -- "book learning" is just a small part of a normal homeschool week filled with field trips, sports, dance, clubs, etc. However, this can still be a special time for you and your children. Use our resources to help make this a time your children will look back on with fondness.

Our Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/outlookacademyhomeschool/> is regularly updated with posts about freebies. Check it out and be sure to follow us!

On this web site, click on Homeschool for Free on the menu to find free resources.

Click on Curriculum on the menu to find reviews and inexpensive resources.

Click on Frequent Questions on the menu if you have questions about homeschooling in general or homeschooling specifically in Alabama.

If you have particular questions about homeschooling a high schooler, click on High School on the menu.

If you need help homeschooling multiple children, click on Homeschooling More Than One Child for details.

Let us know how we can help in other ways!