

Four homeschool proms were scheduled for February through May. Contact the organizers directly for updated information.

Gadsden Prom

Hosted by Pathways Academy, this prom is the first of the season on February 28 from 6:00 - 10:00 p.m. Open to all homeschoolers, it will be held at 2730 Wills Creek Road in Gadsden. You can purchase tickets at the cover school office or online at <https://my.cheddarup.com/c/pathwayshomeschoolprom2020>

Tri-County Homeschool Prom

The Tri-County Homeschool Prom (for Montgomery, Elmore and Autauga Counties) was originally to be held Friday, April 17, from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. at Jasmine Hill Gardens in Wetumpka. Currently, it is rescheduled for May 15, but the date is still subject to change.

The Tri-County Homeschool Prom is open to all homeschoolers grades 9-12 regardless of cover school. The theme is "Arabian Nights."

Tickets must be purchased in advance online. If you do not have a ticket purchased in advance, admittance to the prom will not be permitted. Tickets will NOT be sold at the door.

T-shirts will be available to order in advance. These will be given out at the prom as students check in.

Huntsville Homeschool Prom

The Huntsville Homeschool Prom will be Saturday, April 25, from 7:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. at The Roundhouse (398 Monroe Street NW, Huntsville 35801). The theme this year is "Moonlight and Myths."

Tickets may be bought online at: <https://timeless-homeschool-events.ticketleap.com/huntsville-homeschool-prom--moonlight-and-myths/>

Be sure to buy your ticket early as they usually sell out; plus, tickets will not be sold at the door.

This is the Huntsville Homeschool Prom's 11th year, and they have had homeschool students attend from as far away as Mobile, Tennessee, and Georgia. Their last six years of proms sold out!

Birmingham Prom

The last prom of the season is the Birmingham Prom on May 7 from 7-11 p.m. at Gabrella Manor (8912 Fourth Avenue South) in Birmingham. It is open to any homeschooled teen 9th grade and up and a date; the date does not have to be homeschooled. Many kids come in groups or by themselves and that is fine too.
