

Native Americans, explorers, pioneers and pirates set aside their differences to celebrate Alabama's Bicentennial at Academy Days Homeschool Co-op recently.

Pictured are the male and female costume contest winners from each history class. During the feast, the homeschoolers and their parents sampled a vast assortment of dishes featuring ingredients available in Alabama before it became a state in 1819.

The Academy Days Co-op, held weekly during the school year at Coosada Baptist Church, is designed for preschool through high school students to learn subjects difficult to teach at home or best taught in group settings.

Visit www.AcademyDays.com for more information.